

AAC Hodge VB - New 2023

Canadian Western Red Spring | Midge Tolerant

AAC Hodge VB is a NEW midge tolerant CWRS that sets new yield expectations for the Western Canadian farmer. This variety is the highest yielding CWRS ever registered to date. Extremely strong standability and an exceptional disease package, including a 'MR' for FHB and 'R' for all other priority one diseases. This variety has high performance with high yields and high levels of protection.

- Highest yielding CWRS ever registered; 116%* of Carberry
- Top-in-class standability
- Excellent disease package
 - 'MR' for FHB, 'R' to all other priority one diseases
- Wheat midge tolerant

*Source: Request for Support to Register AAC Hodge VB
 Parentage: BW430/BW897 Refuge: AAC Hockley

Variety	Yield (% Carberry)	Maturity (days)	Height (cm)	Lodging	Test Weight (kg/hL)	Kernel Weight (mg)	Protein (%)	Stem Rust	Leaf Rust	Stripe Rust	Bunt	FHB	Midge Tolerant
AAC Hodge VB	116%	-1	+5	-0.1	+0.4	37.2	-0.6	R	R	R	R	MR	Y
Carberry	100%	95	81	1.2	81.3	37.2	14.5	MR	R	MR	R	MR	N

Source: Request for Support to Register AAC Hodge VB

Frederick Edward Hodge

Frederick Hodge was born May 17, 1919 in Winnipeg Manitoba. He joined the Royal Winnipeg Rifles in 1938 and went overseas in 1941. A Major with the 7th Infantry Brigade, Hodge was part of the initial assault on Juno Beach, D-Day June 6, 1944. Hodge was taken as a prisoner of war and later executed.

